

A MESSAGE TO YOUTH.

or what your parents never told you. Your crime was not breaking bad laws, it was getting caught.

Maybe it never was a depression, but MHC snake oil and witch doctors using sedition to mistreat a dis-ease instead of sadness when one realizes all the lies we've been taught since birth don't work for us, they never did nor ever will except for the slavers, to enchain us more by the damned, US-prison-police-state governments.¹

The goal of compulsive education is to break and harness the creative, imaginative minds that are potentially disruptive against freethinking outside of the party propaganda box in which it places people at birth. Get out of your box they come take you away..... What is worse the lootership govt forces its slaves to pay for it with a lifetime. My parents paid for my public free education while I was forced to attend; I have paid for it since many times over and will do so for life; free never cost so much in stunted development and in personal resources robbed of me by the thieving, regressive US, socialist, lootership, police-state government.

The [human] gods do not like it when one of their cattle should be free!

INDIAN PROVERB

Identity politics is playing both wings to the middle, always remember both wings attach to the same buzzard. No offense to the buzzard. INDIAN PROVERB

Everything you ever learned since birth is a lie. Let that sink in. It began with fairy tales told you as to newborns and infants. Of magic kings and queens and princesses, magic frogs that turned into princes or princesses with only a magic-think kiss. Then when you as an infant got bigger, came birthdays, Xmas, Easter bunnies, later the tooth fairy and promises of more fairy tale lies from your mother experiencing her second childhood living it through you hoping you never grow up, as she never did. Then came school, nursery or other with more lies of freedom, Columbus day; Thanks giving day, which covered up the worst human genocide known in human history committed by the USA, the same Comprachico govt that is educating or conditioning you into a life wage and taxpayer slavery. More education followed indoctrinating you into the American dream, whatever that means, because everyone has a different, subjective fantasy about what it mean, but I can tell you one has to be dead or sleeping to believe it at all. Then more lies about justice for all, which only those with political power and money can buy in America. The rest of us face injustice of bad laws, made by evil people, enforced by thugs with clubs, guns and prisons; evidenced by Free America with more incarcerated people of the lesser 'money gods' per capita than any other country in the world. The truly rich and politically powerful walk free while the rest of us walk bound by shackles and chains. More than 50% of them serving time as political prisoners for 'non-victim crimes' enforced by police-state injustice for political expediency of a failed 'drug war.' Their only crime was getting caught or set up by police state thugs for disobeying bad laws made by evil people running tyrannical US government.

The incarcerated, need real humane treatment and justice; recovery and rehabilitation not prison sentences rotting away in dungeons. American's have the same freedom practiced in USSR, Communist China and similar despotic regimes worldwide. All one hears from mass media, propaganda, & govt PR is hubris that US is the greatest country in the world. No it is not, never will be or never was except for arrogant govt PR driven bias from mass media. US is the biggest bully in the world especially evident when it was the only country with nuclear WMD, from secrets and scientists that US purloined after Nazi Germany fell before the USSR could acquire them first. USSR was first on the scene liberating concentration camps when Nazi Germany fell; US simply made propaganda, cameo shot films for the folks back home. American government could not wait to test these horrible weapons on human lab rats so 'in an act of war that US started with Japan' tested nuclear bombs on Nagasaki and Hiroshima, Japan before their defeated leaders could sign armistice. US looterish sandbagged to delay armistice for time to test its new toys using war as excuse.

After which, nuclear scientist's Ethyl and Julius Rosenberg realized claimed USA 'Freedom' was more fascist and Nazi than Hitler and Mussolini combined. US like Hitler was intent upon world conquest and dominion using the doomsday machine, so was US. To stop imperialist America from doing that, leaked atomic secrets to USSR balancing world power. Rosenberg's were not criminals; they were politically expedient US political victims of conscience against more inhumanity using WMD's to subjugate the world. America was real criminal and remains so. The key to victimizers getting away with their crimes is to grandstand scapegoat their victims first. 'False flag' is made of this. US provoked the Vietnam and Japan wars, using this method. Then should the light of guilt come back to them they melodramatically grovel playing abused, victim to distract from criminal misdeeds. These brave cowards beg for mercy not extended to their victims. Children do this all the time.

Rosenberg's were executed for their sanity as traitors not as saviors of humanity from ongoing imperialist subjugation while destroying life as we know it to do so. Tyranny rules by the lie. People in communist Hungary know their communist despotic government routinely lies; 'they pretend to tell the truth and we pretend to believe it.' County GDP fails because workers say, 'they pretend to pay us so we pretend to work.' These people accept the truth and through civil disobedience rebel without getting shot. In US, American sheeple are too stupid to know the difference. They only believe sweet little lies learned since birth. So, when the rare honest politician tells the truth, like Donald Trump, they run to safe spaces, cover ears, scream liar, cry, pretend not to hear and blame truth. Magic-thinking Americans believe the pretended truth of the real liars. Children do that, too. One look at politics today and there are more traitors loose and free in Washington DC than anywhere else in the world, and they are selling out the whole country not just a secret or two. Americans ignore it watching celebrity bandstand while the US-Titanic sinks beneath the iceberg.

Aforewritten are only a few examples of many lies you were told by culture, parents, US institutions and govt before age 21. Politics reinforces this thereafter in your safe spaces during cookies with milk before nap-time with blankies and Binky. Tyrants, serving you bitter, rotgut, spoiled wine resold in new and improved packaging to fresh generations arriving into this hell. Nothing is new under the sun except to you. Same old lies as every generation gets because they are time tested and work deluding the unwashed enslaved masses every time; then bribe them with a spoonful of sugar that it was all their idea born of 'my generation' so youth and those who never grew up open their mouths to swallow the poison. Leftist economic stimulus payments are perfect recent examples.

By age 18-20, you are a starry-eyed young person setting out into the world seeking to change it to suit your needs. You cannot change the world. Get over it! Activism or slacktivism is egotism and a waste of your life, in toto. It keeps you busy and where the controllers ruling this place can see you to make their move to counter any unlikely progress. Like chess pieces on a chessboard. You are token chess pawns to a bigger agenda playing into owner hands. The world changes you, which you will soon find out after chasing Hollywood fantasy and intellectual factory propaganda lies of romance, love, marriage, career, family and so forth before reality like Divorce Corp, family law corp. career, degree obsolescence and rest of hyena pack scavengers finish picking your bones clean before student loan repayments come due in full. Like the parents before you. For many, the first real downer is BABY! Expected or not babies are maggots from hell. A troublesome human worm wrapped in a blanket screaming, pissing, shitting and puking from three ends. Then you find a no return policy stamped on the astronomical medical bill you got from medical inc. just for just having your bundle of joyless, joy. Next broken women-child mothers find that baby does not unconditionally love or fix her problems; they demand it from her; then come a new host of problems. Babies demand constant care, unconditional love, attention and all of your life from other pursuits. Forget going out, free, footloose and fancy free like you did as a teen. Your new baby-prison as inmate-parent forbids such largess. If your brainchild is born as handicapped with special needs, the crushing weight is nearly unbearable. Expect years of sleepless nights, messes, oh, so many messes, and the smell! More bills with no resources to pay them, constant care and attention demanded of you by the screaming little 'bundle of joyless' worm. Nothing like the Madonna-child fairy tales some mother probably romantically told you about motherhood while convenient-memory omits the truth that it was pure hell for her, too. Misery loves company why should you be happy, she wasn't. So you bit on the greater fool theory about babies. Mark Twain said, 'it is easier to fool someone than convince her she's been fooled.' Expect more big brother and bigger-sister police state government intrusion into your life about how to raise your child. Once again expect so much thou shalt, free brutal advice especially out of progressive leftist institutions, like CPS & public education that you pay for dearly to indoctrinate your child as a party member for life, with all the onus on you in toto. Don't do it? Then state CPS takes baby and sends in the thugs with guns, clubs, shackles and cages for a visit to take you away. But you are free!

Then since most marriages and romantic relationships in US don't last longer than a 'use best by date' on a milk carton because they are not meant to last in the first place. For example, Las Vegas illustrates the sheer hypocrisy of marriage with drive through wedding chapels. Friday wedding drive through on one side of chapel and drive through divorce annulments on the other side of the chapel. It's a process of wedding her into an honest woman, debauching her honesty in car back seat like you were teens again, then divorcing her without ever leaving the car. Hey can't beat fast living Americans. From fast food to fast in and out marriage & divorce. Marry on Friday gamble & fuck your brains out all weekend then divorce on the fly Monday without ever leaving your vehicle. They even sell all the whistles and bells, even condoms, at extra cost. Only in America.

After you fantasy honeymoon ends. your already strained failing marriage is sinking faster than the Titanic with just as much chaotic, frigid, melodrama. Nothing like what you dreams of the fairy-tale storybook romance lie sold to you by Hollywood fantasy factory or MINDFUCK-religions is it? Religions scare you with a devil-monster hiding under your bed so you will believe in an equally invisible monster named 'god,' which also sold you the living hell of marriage and family, which never worked but to make people miserable as chained cage-mates in a prison cell. Dimly you recall from the tightness in your gut and chest the coldness watching the in your face real demon-devils of constantly warring parents, if you grew up with both of them, fighting, arguing, 'getting along' hurting each other with you included in a family affair.' A marriage of desperation that they called a relationship with you between them fighting; before and after your worst, constant nightmare-terror: divorce. Tearing you apart as a helpless rag doll between two rabid Rottweilers. You constantly fantasized that after growing up and escaping this hell that your life would be different as 'happy ever after' like in romantic cinema You were a child lost in a magic-think fantasy replaying your fairy tale imagination in safe places of your mind. Perhaps dreaming of running away from home to elope happily ever after escaping reality of ongoing parental warfare. However, when you actually left home found you repeating parent's mistakes; violating your personal self-promise that you would not be like them. You cannot, because, you are them and were born into and raised from birth on lies and self-deception same as they. The nut never falls far from the tree that produced it. You don't know any better because you never learned what a healthy relationship or real love were; because your role models never taught you. You cannot live, teach or learn what you never knew. That was your first tip off to your inner and outer worlds that romance; marriage and such are all fantasies that do not work. The constant inner battle: 'struggling with do I believe in me as self or the we know-it-all better than you world?'

e.e. Cummings said, 'the hardest battle in life for me was remaining me in a world constantly seeking to make me like it.' Everyone fights that battle. You choose between truth of inner self-knowing as faith in self or lies of an enslaving world training you to repeat and believe: The perfect slave says, 'I am not a slave.' Then bought the misery from that same world selling it to you. Now you are mired in the quagmire up to your nose as a single mother either from from a teen Oops pregnancy, divorce or after you or your spouse simply said screw it and walked out slammed the door dumping and running away from present messes to repeat them again with another enabler, while blaming the people left behind to clean up their mess. Once in late midlife, I thought about remarriage. She pushed for it. Was not my idea. Then reality hit me between the eyes, it is the same disaster with a different woman. Get used to growing old alone, which ended the whole marry me or else shit. I'll take the 'or else' ultimatum option.

Einstein said, 'repeating the same mistakes expecting different outcomes of success each time is stupidity. And that the universe has limits but not human stupidity.' How long it takes each person to wake up to personal stupidity is respective to each individual. I finally woke up at late midlife crisis.

When you stop believing in the lies to believe in self after finding the real you, your world as reality grows very dark for a while. Disappointment is like that; one grasps at anything from drowning in darkness of 'dark night of the soul'. The darkest hour is before sunrise. The teacher has arrived and only teacher knows when to come, never a student. Before awakening chop wood, carry water; after awakening chop wood, carry water. Your burdens are no easier whether accepting your lot by waking up or running away to repeat a fool's folly. William Blake said, 'A fool following his [or her] folly soon becomes wise.' Where ever you run there you are; no one can run away from self, ever! That is known as 'dark night of the soul' or 'existential crisis.' Many people die during this as fate worse than death. US MHC witch doctors call it depression, which means the sadness and sinking feeling one gets waking up and realizing that you have lived and wasted your life chasing ghosts. Wasted your life chasing lies; living it all wrong going round and round on the human rat race exercise wheel going nowhere wasting your lifetime. Society and culture spent the first 20 years of your life as conditioning to get you on the human rat race exercise wheel pronto serving your owners in this hell, instead of allowing you to find the real you via self knowing of who, what, why and where you are. The prophet John Lennon said, 'when you are born they keep you so small, by giving you no time instead of it all.' Like the Rosenberg's an assassin's gun killed him for his sanity. US 'we the people' assassins murdered the Rosenberg's for political crimes with an electric chair. An inhumane, torturesome, brutal method, I'd prefer the gun. Truth cannot be silenced, never. Cutting out a man's tongue or murdering him never hides the truth.

US Comprachico-slavers captured and owned you at birth then enchained and educated you as the perfect slave that says, 'I am not a slave.' Born free, Freedom stands alone inviolate knowing it is free. Does the born free eagle or hawk flying above the trees need to be educated that it is free? What about inherently born free whales, dolphins, tree or rock of Gibraltar? Are they educated as free? Why do you need constant political reeducation that you are free? You are born innocent and helpless into slavery of this world and it goes deeper into hell from there. People in US think they are free because they can choose which department stores to shop at. So can Russians of the USSR. So can citizens of Communist China! Lennon said, 'They keep you doped up on sex, religion and TV' but you are all just peasants [dozing under bread, wine and circus' tents keeping masses amused and distracted from what really is happening to them.] Get out of line and the new sedition as an unproven mental disorder sends in the thugs with guns and chains to enchain or kill you with words. Seditious is a catchall word once used to indiscriminately torture and kill people because some authority on a bad hair day did not like their looks or some snitch turned you in for sedition against church-state. Mere suspicion was enough to get hot pokers poked into every body orifice or as star attraction at public auto da fe'. Mental health care is the new modern sedition of communist countries and USA, but I digress. ¹

Your body is a miraculous machine. The heart pumps, lungs ventilate, thyroid gland regulates, blood flows and all else works per design and never needed an education to do any of it! Yet caged human society must be constantly educated and reeducated by violence of bad laws, made by evil people, enforced by thugs with prisons, clubs and guns. One is only free as any prisoner that is allowed to walk in the prison yard, use the cell toilet, think or write per party dogma, pace his or her cage, or to resist abusive capos and lackeys instead of bending over, etc. To the prisoner, freedom is only as far as the cage and prison walls outside it permit. How big is your cage? You were never free, or had any choices about any of this hell; they were all made before your birth then served to you as a ham, cheese or shit sandwich. You had choice only about choosing what was served to you. Like a prisoner at meal time chooses, swill, bread with water, water only or nothing..... Wasting your life is a choice that you make but to be free, first one must know of the traps both hidden and in plain sight to avoid the cages and prisons. The choice is up to you.

Beware, being independent is hazardous freedom.¹ The perfect slave is an enchained person who says, 'I am not a slave' while looking from inside, out through prison bars that stops at prison walls.

The [human] gods do not like it when one of their cattle should be free! INDIAN PROVERB

1 Sedition is imprisonment using power as s-words & chains.
